Call center industry: Many are called but few are chosen

By Liza S. Samson

While the industry has been growing rapidly in the Philippines, many call centers are still struggling to find the right people to work for them.

Call centers are not just for women anymore. Many men are also working in the industry, and some are even starting their own call centers.

Independence day

WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1990

EDITORIAL

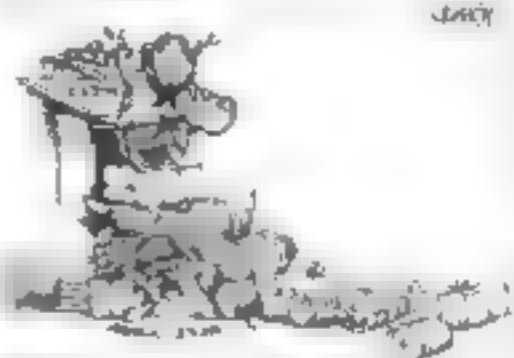

It is a day of national pride and joy. It is a day when we remember the sacrifices of our forefathers and the struggles of our people. It is a day when we reaffirm our commitment to democracy and justice.

As we look back on the past, we are reminded of the challenges we have faced. We are reminded of the blood and sweat of our heroes. We are reminded of the resilience of our people.

Let us not forget the lessons of history. Let us not forget the values that have sustained us. Let us not forget the dreams that drive us forward.

Today, we stand on the shoulders of our ancestors. Today, we look to the future with hope and confidence. Today, we celebrate our independence.

Let us continue to build a better Philippines. Let us continue to strive for a more just and equitable society. Let us continue to uphold the principles of our Constitution.

Greyhound racing is cruel to the dogs

And Sam C.

Greyhound racing is a cruel and inhumane sport. The dogs are treated like machines, pushed to their limits and then discarded. They are often injured, abused, and even killed. The racing industry is a multi-billion dollar industry, but it is built on the backs of these poor animals.

It is time to ban greyhound racing. It is time to protect these animals from the cruelty of the racing industry. We must ensure that all animals are treated with respect and compassion.

Malacañang laughs off whistle-blower's claim

Manila, Philippines — President Rodrigo Duterte's office on Monday dismissed a claim by a whistle-blower that the president's son, Ferdinand, was involved in a corruption scandal. The claim, which was first reported by a local news outlet, alleged that Ferdinand had been involved in a deal with a foreign company to build a new airport terminal. The president's office said that the claim was "baseless" and that Ferdinand was not involved in any such deal. The office also said that it was investigating the claim and would take appropriate action if the allegations were found to be true.

The whistle-blower, who is a former employee of the president's office, said that he had been told by Ferdinand that he was involved in the deal. He said that he had been given a large sum of money by Ferdinand to help him with the deal. He said that he had refused the offer and had decided to report the matter to the public.

The president's office said that it was not aware of any such deal and that it was not investigating the claim. The office also said that it was not commenting on the whistle-blower's claim.

The claim comes at a time when the president's office is facing criticism for its handling of the COVID-19 pandemic. The president's office has been accused of covering up the extent of the pandemic and of delaying the implementation of strict lockdown measures.

The president's office has also been accused of mismanaging the government's response to the pandemic. The office has been criticized for its failure to provide accurate information about the pandemic and for its failure to coordinate with other government agencies.

The president's office has denied these accusations and has said that it is doing everything it can to control the pandemic. The office has also said that it is committed to transparency and accountability.

The president's office has said that it is not commenting on the whistle-blower's claim because it is not a matter of public interest. The office has said that it is only commenting on the claim because it is a matter of public interest.

The fourth step is to evaluate the results. The fifth step is to make adjustments as needed. The sixth step is to repeat the process as often as necessary.

BSP seeks change in charter, tax exemptions

By YVES L. SORIANO
 The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is seeking to amend its charter to allow it to exercise more powers in the financial system, including the ability to regulate and supervise non-bank financial institutions (NBFIs) and to issue and manage the country's currency.

The BSP's current charter, which was enacted in 1993, gives the central bank the authority to regulate and supervise banks and other financial institutions. However, it does not have the authority to regulate and supervise NBFIs, which are now a significant part of the financial system.

The BSP's proposed amendments to its charter would give it the authority to regulate and supervise NBFIs, as well as to issue and manage the country's currency. The amendments would also give the BSP the authority to regulate and supervise the payment system and to manage the country's foreign exchange reserves.

The BSP's proposed amendments to its charter are part of a broader effort to strengthen the financial system and to improve the efficiency of the financial system. The BSP's proposed amendments to its charter are expected to be passed by the House of Representatives in the near future.
